Why Choose Microneedling?

Microneedling works by creating controlled micro-injuries in the skin, triggering a natural regenerative response. This stimulates new cell production and renewal of the upper epidermal layers. Active ingredients applied before hand penetrate through the microchannels into deeper layers of the skin, making them significantly more effective than standard transdermal delivery.

What Microneedling is good for:

- Wrinkles and fine skin density
- Hyperpigmentation
- Rosacea
- Skin flaccidity
- Sun damage
- Stretch marks
- Skin Rejuvenation
- Hair loss
- Hypertrophic, post-acne
